Under Sonalika CSR's Agricultural Development Project, we're championing women-led initiatives in Uttar Pradesh's districts of Mainpuri, Kannauj, and Firozabad. Our customer hiring centers, entirely managed by village women, provide essential agricultural equipment to local farmers. Moreover, our seed bank empowers these women further: they supply seeds for farming, with farmers returning double the amount post-harvest.

Sonalika Gurukul spread the festive cheer by celebrating Christmas with talent shows and engaging activities for children. Creating a nurturing and vibrant environment for the holistic development of young minds.

“

I adopted Manchan farming, thanks to Sonalika CSR's Agriculture Enhancement Program. By elevating pumpkin crops off the ground, I've witnessed improved quality and higher yields, particularly during rainy seasons. This approach aligns with market demand, promising increased profits. I am grateful for this opportunity and I recommend vine vegetables like bitter melon and cucumber to fellow farmers as well. Sonalika CSR's innovation has transformed our farming practices.
