Sonalika CSR: Strengthening Communities, Sustaining Futures

From Local Voices to Lasting Change

Enhancing Everyday Connectivity in Baghai village, Firozabad

BEFORE

AFTER

Change is most impactful when it comes from within the community. Guided by this belief, Sonalika CSR is enabling grassroots transformation in Baghai and Madhawali villages of Firozabad, Uttar Pradesh.

In partnership with CRY, 10 women’s groups have been empowered to identify local issues and actively work towards solutions. In Baghai, the long-pending issue of a damaged road connecting the village to Chandika Road was taken up through community efforts. With the support from the village Pradhan and engagement with the Public Works Department (PWD), the road was successfully constructed, thereby, improving access to schools, healthcare, and daily mobility.

Today, this road is actively used by students, daily commuters, and residents, connecting them more easily to schools, healthcare facilities, and nearby markets, and significantly easing everyday life in the village.

From Local Voices to Lasting Change

Improving Sanitation & Health in Madhawali village, Firozabad

Under its community development initiatives, Sonalika CSR, in partnership with CRY, has been working closely with communities to address local challenges through awareness and collective action. In Madhawali village, a critical drainage issue affecting sanitation and daily life was identified by the community and taken up through community engagement.

With the involvement of empowered community members and support from local leadership, a 150-meter drainage system was constructed. This intervention has significantly improved sanitation, strengthened water drainage, and contributed to healthier living conditions.

The initiative highlights how sustained engagement and community participation can lead to tangible improvements, reinforcing Sonalika CSR's commitment to enabling community-led, sustainable development.

BOOK LAUNCHES

Sonalika Publications has launched “The Magic of Rainbow Ville”, a heartwarming children’s book that brings together colour, friendship, and kindness in a magical setting. The story follows the Cheerful Chums as they prepare for a grand rainbow party, only to face an unexpected challenge that changes everything.

Through the gentle presence of a new friend, Grace, the book beautifully conveys that true magic lies not in powers, but in empathy and kindness. Perfect for young readers, this delightful tale blends imagination with an important life lesson.

Reading Corners Established to Promote a Culture of Reading

State Library, Andaman & Nicobar Islands

Recognizing that reading is the foundation of all learning, Sonalika CSR has focused on strengthening access to books and reading spaces, especially in areas where such resources are limited. Many children, particularly in underserved and remote regions, do not have access to libraries or age-appropriate reading material, which impacts their ability to build comprehension, confidence, and independent learning habits.

To address this gap, reading corners have been established across multiple locations, including the Andaman and Nicobar Islands and Delhi to ensure that children have access to safe and engaging spaces for reading. These reading corners go beyond providing books. They create an environment that encourages curiosity, imagination, and regular reading habits. By introducing children to quality learning resources in a structured yet inviting space, the initiative supports foundational literacy and helps children engage better with their education. Bookshelves along with curated collections of books have been provided across all locations, including the State Library in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Khushi NGO, Deepti Foundation, and PACE NGO in Delhi to strengthen access to quality reading resources.

Sonalika CSR launches Krishi-Saathi App

Reinforcing its commitment to strengthening rural ecosystems, Sonalika CSR has launched the Krishi-Saathi App, a digital platform designed to support farmers, equipment owners, and their families. The app enables seamless connections between tractor and farm equipment owners and farmers, to make rentals more accessible, efficient, and transparent. By simplifying access to machinery, it aims to enhance farm productivity and also create additional livelihood opportunities.

In addition, Krishi-Saathi app equips farmers with real-time mandi prices, weather updates, and crop insights, helping them make more informed and timely decisions. Extending its impact beyond farming, the app also includes a dedicated learning section for children that offers engaging educational videos and resources. This feature aims to support the learning journeys of young minds across both rural and urban communities.

Through the launch of Krishi-Saathi app, Sonalika CSR continues to leverage technology to drive inclusive growth and empower farming communities.

Biogas as a Pathway to Sustainable Farming

Under its Climate Smart Agriculture Program, Sonalika CSR, in partnership with UMANG, is promoting sustainable practices across Hardoi, Firozabad and Kannauj in Uttar Pradesh. A key focus of the initiative is biogas production, an eco-friendly solution that converts organic waste into clean energy, to help farmers reduce fuel costs and at the same time improve waste management. To encourage adoption, one biogas unit has been set up in each district as a hands-on learning and demonstration site.

Through this blend of training and practical exposure, the program is enabling farmers to adopt sustainable practices and move towards a greener future.
